

Seamer Training University

Specialized Machine Training

Pneumatic Scale Angelus is proud to operate a Seamer Training University to help customers achieve the best performance and longest life from our equipment. These one week classes provide hands on instruction and are taught at our Akron, Ohio training facility by PMMI Certified Instructors. Our facility has more than 100 years of experience combined working with can seamers. Our goal is to provide the best education possible and develop a long term rapport with our students that enhance our working relationship.

Angelus/CTI Seamer Training Class

Standard Class

Each 5 day session is devoted to a specific model of Seamer. Students participate in lectures, examine cut-away component units and receive plenty of reference materials along with hands-on training. Classroom topics include basic settings, adjustments, general maintenance, and production of Quality Double Seams. Question and answer sessions are an important element of each day's curriculum.

Advanced Class

To meet our customers' demand for more in-depth training, our seamer university is proud to provide Advanced Seamer Training Classes. Each class is devoted to a specific model machine, and during the comprehensive 5-day session, students completely disassemble Angelus and Continental Seamers, rebuild them and reinstall all sub-assemblies. Classroom topics include preparation and review of the overhaul, evaluation of used parts, modifications to update machines, and review of equipment audit sheets.
